Toshi's Foods Marks Eighth Anniversary

Toshi's Market is currently celebrating its eighth anniversary with a weekend sale in all departments. The market, one of the largest independent stores in the area, will feature special sales and savings in all its departments. Parking is free in the large lot adjacent to the building.

Toshi Suminaga, owner of the market, said, "after all, our customers are the reason that we have been able to stay in business so our low prices are our way of saying thanks to them."

The market is located at 238th Street and Arlington Avenue.

The initials "MS" stand for multiple sclerosis, a chronic disease of the central nervous system. Cause, cure and prevention remain unknown. An estimated 500,000 young Americans are afflicted by MS and related diseases.

Benjamin Franklin and many other great men got their first business training as newspaperboys. Men whose names make headlines in today's newspapers... men like J. Edgar Hoover, Walt Disney, Lowell Thomas, Bing Crosby, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and Astronaut Virgil I. Grissom. And in tomorrow's headlines, will be many of today's newspaperboys. Why? Because today's newspaperboy is learning the principles of business early in his career. This Junior Independent Merchant buys his newspapers at wholesale and sells them at retail to his customers. Just like any other businessman, he learns that in order to make a profit he must keep accurate records, collect and pay promptly, and plan his time. Equally important, he learns to meet people easily and how to close a sale. He finds that dependability, punctuality, courtesy, and thrift are more than just words and must be put into practice if he is to succeed. Today's newspaperboy measures up to the proven standards for success which prepare him for leadership tomorrow. If you have a son that you think might be interested in a newspaper route, why not write or phone us.
